ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A security protocol structure for a Wireless Application Protocol (WAP) standard structure is disclosed. The security protocol structure provides a data security function in an application layer by providing a secret session having a secured session layer security (SSLS) protocol for providing a secret session interface to an application program between the session layer and the application layer.